UNITED IN GENEROSITY AS ONE GLOBAL FAMILY

Amid the harsh conditions of the Sahel region's 1976 drought, millions faced hunger. That same year, Catholics worldwide gathered at the 41st International Eucharistic Congress in Philadelphia, focusing on "The Eucharist and the Hungers of the Human Family." As Lent draws to a close, let's reflect on how our prayers, fasting and almsgiving can help ensure no one goes hungry in the middle of today's global food crisis.

EVENING ONLINE PRAYERS BRING PEOPLE TOGETHER

- Story by Karen A. Avitabile

Father George Couturier sets up his laptop to record a daily evening prayer on Facebook.

Several parishioners of St. Josephine Bakhita Parish in Rocky Hill are participating in meaningful online evening prayer broadcasts through Facebook to stay connected to God and their parish.

"Facebook makes it easy to do," says Father George Couturier, pastor of St. Josephine Bakhita, who leads the evening prayer streams during the week on Facebook. "I just set up my laptop (in the rectory) and aim it at my face."

The priest's broadcasts can be viewed at 5 p.m., Mondays through Fridays, by following facebook.com/saintjosephinebakhita.

Some people join Father Couturier when the broadcasts first air on Facebook; others watch it later in the evening. The broadcasts also include the actual text of the priest's spoken words.

Father Couturier launched the prayer service on Facebook in March 2020 after public Masses were suspended during the coronavirus pandemic.

"The pandemic hit," he says. "It was the perfect time to do it. We were planning to do something before the pandemic."

After in-person Masses resumed in June 2020

Father Couturier's online prayer broadcasts had a captive audience.

The parishioners, who make up St. Elizabeth Seton and St. James churches, asked the priest to continue the broadcasts.

"We received positive response," Father Couturier says, adding the prayers have been uplifting for many of the viewers. "Some are shut-ins and some just want to hear a calm voice. It's just an opportunity to pray together."

The online evening prayer broadcasts reach about 200 people consistently, says Lisa Orchen, parish communications coordinator. For many people, she adds, the broadcasts have become an essential part of their own "spiritual routine."

"Couples share that they participate in evening prayer together with Father George leading them every evening," Orchen says. "Similar to daily Mass, evening prayer participants post words of deep appreciation for Father George's nightly ritual consistency and for offering this daily prayer practice for all to follow and join with."

Father Couturier says he prefers to broadcast his daily prayer messages on Facebook in the evening after people have settled in at home from a long day.

"They seem to touch the heart," he says of the broadcasts. "People need to unload, rest and go to sleep. People prefer to go to bed with those prayers in mind."

Currently, Father Couturier's broadcasts include Lenten messages using "Give Us This Day," a prayer resource that aids in fostering a deeper connection with God. Viewing spikes for the broadcasts usually occur during Lenten and Advent seasons when more people are tuning in.

In addition to the online evening prayer broadcasts, livestreams of Masses take place each Sunday morning from one of the Rocky Hill churches.

"We have strong consistency with our real-time livestream participants," Orchen says. "The majority of these participants are folks who are deeply connected to our parish but are home or assisted living/nursing homebound due to health and age. We also have folks who are longtime parishioners who now live geographically distant for all or part of the year, and stay connected to the parish through the livestream."
